THE NEW YORK.

The Cruiser Makes Twenty-One Knots an Hour—A Frenchman of Over Two Hundred Miles an Hour—The Cruise.

BOSTON, May 25.—With forward torpedo tubes buried deep in the sea and the water pushed almost as high as her forecastle, the U. S. armored cruiser, New York, steamed across the line Monday, breaking the world's record and winning for her builders the largest premium ever paid in any country.

When twenty-one knots was predicted as the speed for the new cruiser, many hoped, but few believed, that her engines would ever be able to drive such an immense mass of steel through the water at this rate. When she crossed the line Monday, however, with a speed of 21.09 knots through the water, and some corrections yet to be added for tide, the enthusiasm on board was intense.

Monday's performance off the Massachusetts coast will be echoed from one end of Europe to the other, for it places the United States in the van among the navies of the world, and gives us not only the most powerful but the swiftest armored cruiser vessel.

There has been great enthusiasm in England, the home of the fastest of the cruisers, Blake and Blenheim, some claiming that the latter had attained a speed of 22 knots.

In the first place their vessels are not armored, but simply protected by four-inch plates of armor, and their engines are of equal speed for them, therefore, would be nothing remarkable against a vessel carrying in addition to a six-inch protective

FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1900.

The Kentucky Press Association will convene at Louisville May 29th, and on the 30th the members will go to Chicago to see the Fair.

The French and English factions are again at war. One day last week one man was killed and two men and two women badly wounded.

The Senate defeated the bill providing for the deduction of wages of judges and other State officers when not on duty, and for the deduction of pay of absent members of the General Assembly.

Commissioner Lochren has decided to make a departure in the appointment of Pension Examining Boards. Heretofore they have consisted of two Republicans and one Democrat, or vice versa, but hereafter the members will all be Democrats.

The Rev. Dr. T. DeWitt Talnager, who some time ago declared he would resign the pastorate of Brooklyn Tabernacle unless the floating debt of the church was paid, has officially announced that the obligation had been met and he would remain as pastor.

In an anarchistic deliverance the President of the Chicago Trades and Labor Assembly declared that as many workmen had bought World's Fair stock on the representation that the gates would be opened on Sunday, if they are denied admission that day they should march to the grounds and take their rights by force.

The indications now are that the World's Fair will be opened on Sundays. The National Commission, by a vote of 30 to 27, concurred in the rule for Sunday opening recently adopted by the Board of Directors. An attempt will be made to reconsider the vote, but to secure a quorum of the Commissioners again, and the rule is likely to stand.

The Republicans took the Treasury four years ago with $100,000,000 surplus in it. After robbing it and obligating it with burdens which were rushing it deeper into bankruptcy every day, they turned the thing over to the new administration two months ago, empty; yes, worse than empty. And already, before it would have been possible to check the Republican impetus, even if we had a full Democratic force in charge, the Republican organs are beginning to charge up the deplorable state of affairs to the Democratic party. Here is a sample from the Mayville Ledger: "The country is learning by experience once more that Democratic rule is a very costly luxury."

Old Kentucky is standing by Mr. Carlisle as the never did before, and that young man, Logan Carlisle, is not being forgotten. They have warmed the Democratic heart as it has not been warmed for years, and even the manly Republicans have an admiration for them. "I want your place for a Democrat," is what did the work. Don't understand that other duties are forgotten; that tariff reform has fallen to the rear; that the repeal of the Sherman act has been abandoned. All these must come, and it is because they will come quicker under complete Democratic rule than in any other way, that the Democrats of Kentucky are crying "Hail to the chief," and likewise to the old man's son.—Frankfort Capital.

In answer to queries from the Secretary of the Society of Christian Endeavor, Attorney General Olney stated that it would be the duty of the World's Columbian Commission to enforce the rule closing the Exposition on Sunday. He also said he had instructed the District Attorney at Chicago to be prepared to act should the necessity of restraining the Exposition managers from opening on Sunday arise.

The weakness of the criminal law is to a great extent the weakness of juries. People often lack moral courage to aid the prosecution of violators of law and are usually ready to ask for the pardon of one who happens to have been convicted.

WORLD'S FAIR.
Chicago, May 24.
The discord over the music question has culminated in Theodore Thomas being asked to resign his position by Director-General Davis.

The musical exercises held at noon in festival hall are becoming more popular every day, as attested by the crowds who attend. That sort of music is more in touch with the public's favor than the high-toned, one-string symphonies of the masters.

Many of the state buildings are keeping open house, and receive visitors with much cordiality, especially so among the courtesans and hospitable southern homes.

As if the people were liable to overlook old "Liberty Bell," it has been placed at the entrance to the Pennsylvania building, which building is an exact counterpart of the city hall in Philadelphia.

The electrical display is something long to be remembered, and the evenings when they take place, will draw crowds to witness the beautiful sight.

As if to entice the public into their den, a free exhibit is made of a man among the lions.

He fires off pistols, puts his head in their mouths and feeds them raw meat from his hand. As a lady remarked, Daniel was not in it with this tamer of the "King of the Forest."

The exhibits in the building devoted to mining and its kindred industries are fast assuming shape. Pennsylvania at present, is very prominent therein with the exhibit made of the fifty-foot pyramid of coal. Kentucky, not to be outdone, will have when completed, a very fine pavilion to show off the mineral wealth of her domain. Michigan has reason to be proud of her exhibit of copper seen in its finished condition, and as it comes from the mines.

Ample provision has been made in case of fire, as a full-fledged fire department is in operation, and a patrol boat, the Fire Queen, is in readiness at all times to do her duty.

There is trouble over the official catalogue of the art gallery, especially among the Frenchmen. A visitor in looking up a "Christ on the Cross," found it was "A Wounded Dog" in the catalogue, and where the "Rights of Man" was, the catalogue took you to an angel dressed for weather appropriate to 90 degrees in the shade. There are six miles of painting in this art gallery, and one who visits these institutes much knows what that means, that it is a tiresome journey to view them.

The Midway Plaisance is a broad avenue, on the sides of which are foreign villages, such as the German, Irish, Algerian, Eskimo, etc.

It is well worth anyone's time to walk through Midway plaisance, even though you do not visit the many villages and other attractions found there. Certainly such mixture of Jew and Gentile, Heathen and Christian were never so congregated before, and many of these strange people will not return to their native land.

The editors in their national convention last week and part of this, seemed to have mixed a great deal of pleasure with their business, and they return to their paste pots invigorated by our lake breezes, and to continue the good work of saying kind words for the Columbian Exposition.

Some of the Columbian guards are a trifle saucy and too officious. They seem to forget that they are required to be gentlemen under all circumstances, even though they are dressed in brass buttons, black braid and blue uniforms.

To judge from the numerous hotels erected for the entertainment of World's Fair visitors, saying nothing of the old established ones, and many boarding and private lodging houses, Chicago will have no difficulty in taking good care of the multitudes, even though all of China were poured in on us. Rest assured on this point, that ample preparations have been made.—Royce's Correspondence.

FOOLISH PROCEEDINGS.
Commercial Gazette.—When gold stood at its top notch figure of $285 in 1891, men who had no confidence in the Government were buying and storing it for future use. These investors were called fools, and so they were, for a year afterward gold was at $125, and from that time almost steadily declined until the premium was wiped out. It would, we suppose, be unpatriotic to call Uncle Sam a fool, yet with all his financial experience he has been constantly buying up silver at the rate of one hundred and forty tons a month, giving his credit notes in payment. With half an eye any man of common business sense could see that this cornering of the silver market on the plea of keeping the metal in parity with gold must sooner or later be broken and force gold to a premium. We are bound to say that in this transaction Uncle Sam has shown himself unwise.

Married.

On last Wednesday was consummated one of those happy affairs which always deeply interest the public and furnish employment for industrious tongues for a considerable time previous. The delightful period of "guessing" is over and the gossip sign as they remember that one of their subjects has been brought to conclusion. We refer, of course, to a wedding.

At the South Methodist church at two p. m. May 25th, Miss Ella Fraser became Mrs. Wm. N. Sullivan. The church was well filled with relatives and friends before the appointed hour. Promptly on time the wedding party arrived.

At the sound of the wedding march, played by Mrs. F. T. H. Wallace, the party entered the church and marched up the aisle. The bride couple was preceded by Miss Nora Borders and Mr. H. C. Sullivan, the brother of the groom. They were met at the altar by Rev. M. W. Hiner, who pronounced a choice and impressive ceremony, followed by a brief prayer. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan did not wait for congratulations, but at once led the way out and proceeded to the residence of the groom's mother, Mrs. C. C. Sullivan.

The bride wore a becoming suit of gray-wool, and the groom was dressed in black.

The relatives were invited to dine at Mrs. Sullivan's at five o'clock. It is generally considered that nothing is too good for a wedding occasion. Perhaps there is not; but to one who was present it seems that this report was at least good enough. The tables were well laden with choice eatables, both of a substantial and delicate nature, prepared in the most tempting and toothsome style. The cutting and distribution of the bride's cake added much to the pleasant excitement of the evening. One piece contained a darling needle, which was to decide who of the party should be the next to play a principal part on a like occasion. We shall mention no names, but the party who drew the lucky piece of cake bears the same relation to the groom as did James and John, the disciples of old, to each other. It was generally agreed that the darling needle knows its business.

The bride is a modest and worthy young lady of good education and the groom is one of our leading grocers. May their hopes of the future be fully realized.

Decoration Day.

Next Tuesday will be Decoration Day. It has been made a legal holiday by the government, as we all know, for the purpose of doing honor to our dead. The people of this vicinity are requested to spend the day at Pine Hill Cemetery. Go as early as convenient, take your dinner, and you will find enough to do to pass the day pleasantly and profitably. Certainly one day in a year should be spent in this work, and why not next Tuesday?

The revival at the M. E. Church, of which we made mention last week, closed last night with about 250 additions to the church. Miss Cartwright and Mrs. Hughes will leave to-day for Louisa, where they will hold a revival. We cheerfully recommend these ladies to the good people of Louisa and congratulate them upon wearing the services of such earnest and efficient workers in Christ's Kingdom, and if they do as much good there as they have done here Louisa will be a better city at their departure. Miss Cartwright's preaching is marvelous, and she has something new and original for every meeting. May God's choicest blessings attend these ladies where ever they go be the prayer of hundreds of friends they leave in this town.—Kentucky Democrat.

The citizens are getting very tired of the firing of revolvers on the streets at night and will assist the officers in discovering the miscreants. The last occurrence of the kind was Monday night. The offender is reported to have been a party who was formerly a resident of Louisa, but who emigrated to West Virginia for his health some time ago and only visits our place after a long absence.

A telegram was received here a few days ago from the state of Washington stating that John Ferguson, who killed Jimmie Thompson a few miles over in Wayne county last November, has been apprehended. There is a reward of $300 for his delivery to the West Virginia authorities and he will doubtless be brought back.

Mr. G. W. Castle will go to Washington the latter part of next month to take charge of the position to which he has been appointed by Secretary Carlisle. The position is that of Chief of the Bureau and is a very responsible one.

Marriage license has been granted to the following parties this week: Thomas Rice and Esther Lester; James Crawford and Jennie Workman; Lindsay Skeens and Rosetta Park.

The board of supervisors for the town tax books for 1906 failed to get together on the 28th, so they have resubmitted informing the public that they will convene in the town hall Sunday, May 28th.

J. B. Wallace has been appointed postmaster at Maynard, this county.

$10,000 damage was awarded John Lusk, administrator of Whit Lusk, in his suit against the A. C. & I railroad in the Boyd Circuit Court.

The Governor offers $150 for the capture of Amos and Frank Lewis, charged with murder in Morgan county.

The Ashland Steel plant has resumed operations with enough orders to run them through the summer.

Mr. Steve Marcus, Sr., is hopelessly ill at Caldwellburg. He formerly lived in this vicinity.

Lightning struck a Methodist Church in Ceredo recently while services were in progress. Many were shocked but none seriously hurt.

R. E. Sampson, a building contractor, of Central City, W. Va., was drowned last Sunday while out boat riding with four other men. The boat was upset and the others all escaped.

The Caldwellburg postoffice fight, which had reached fever heat, has been settled. Mr. John Montague, a very worthy gentleman, has been selected.

Pike county has a citizen 51 years of age who was never outside of Pike county nor at Pikeville or any other town. He is a good citizen and always pays his taxes promptly.—Martin County Gazette.

Another good man is about to go wrong. Editor J. M. Staton, of the Pikeville Mountain Monitor, is "suggested" as a candidate to represent Pike county in the next general assembly of Kentucky. While we are always sorry to see useful men go to the bad we can say that Jim Staton could creditably represent his people, and they might do worse than to elect him.—Paintsville Courier.

A man named Fady was arrested in Hampton City (just above Caldwellburg) on a charge of having murdered a man named Blackburn, from East Point, Ky., recently. Blackburn's body was found floating in the river and he was at first supposed to have been drowned, but later developments indicate murder.

"During the last tide about three hundred rifles passed Beatriceville. Half raft carried at least three men. It would be safe to say that two out of every three men had a pistol, valued at say ten dollars. This would make 600 pistols representing $6000 in firearms owned by the inhabitants of what are called the paper counties of Kentucky."—Beatriceville Enterprise.

The venerable ghost of Swift's silver mine, the immortal Kentucky myth, is again treading a progress through the space-paid columns of the syndicate press. The romantic moonshiner has also been given a coat of fiction by enterprising scribblers during the past few weeks. The moonshiner of those stories would not be recognized by the past few weeks. The moonshiner who through the Custom-house at Louisa while the Federal Court is in session.—C. J.

Mr. Green Meek, the versatile mountain capitalist and hustler, who edits a steamboat, a hotel and a newspaper with ease and success, is not a man who hesitates about speaking his mind. In his paper, the Paintsville Courier (not Paragon) he publishes an open letter to United States Marshal Blackburn, in which he deposits a squirt of nitric acid under every square inch of the article of one James Greer, whom he has heard mentioned as a probable deputy under the new Marshal and against whom he has certain charges to make which he thinks should be known to the new Marshal. As Greer was a deputy under Barrett he is probably a Republican or a newly-made Democrat, and the Blackburn fancy does not often turn in that direction.—C. J.

Last saw a cow with white stripe running down back; has white legs and white belly; her sides are red. She will be fresh in a few weeks. I will pay a liberal reward to the person who will return her to me.
